

Articles #10 and #11:

“Bullying is no game.”

“Link between violence in media and real world hard to prove.”

After Reading

- Create a graphic organizer in which you examine and compare these two essays. You could use a Venn diagram, or a Compare/Contrast chart, or another organizer or your choice. Be sure to consider each of the following details:
  - the points of view of the authors
  - the techniques each uses to persuade the audience
  - the effectiveness of the approach chosen.
- These two authors have very different points of view. How can a reader determine which one is more credible?
- Do some research of your own about the issues outlined in these two essays. Are their statistics correct? Are there more examples of real-life situations that support or refute their points? What have they not included in the arguments that they should have addressed? What do other “experts” say about the matter?
